Labour Force Activity<sup>1</sup> April 2023

The April 2023 Labour Force Survey information released by Statistics Canada today estimates the Northwest Territories' (NWT) seasonally unadjusted employment rate at 70.7%, a slight increase from the previous month. The number of employed persons rose by four hundred between March and April, to reach 24,100, all increases occurring in full-time work.

Compared to one year ago, the overall NWT employment rate decreased by 3.6 percentage points. Employment rates declined for all major worker groups, except for Non-Indigenous persons and those living in Yellowknife. Among youth aged 15-24, the employment rate dropped 16.7 percentage points to 42.6%, returning to historic levels following two years of higher employment rates for April.

Employment by employment type, class of worker, and industry

At the industrial level, month-over-month employment levels were little changed for most industries. Between March and April 2023, employment increased in public administration (400), education (300), and transport & warehousing (200), offsetting declines in construction, business, building & other support services.

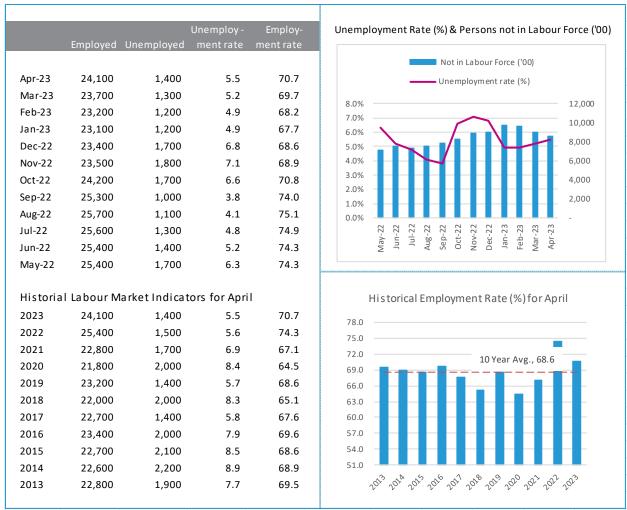

Meanwhile, employment increases in the public sector (+800) and in self-employment (+200) more than offset the decline in private sector employment between March and April 2023.
